

Access to Himi

Himi City is located in the northwest of Toyama Prefecture, at the base of Noto Peninsula. It looks onto Toyama Bay, a member of the "World's Most Beautiful Bays Club." The city has a population of about 50,000, and fishing and agriculture are its main industries. Himi has relatively mild weather due to warm currents along the coastal area.

Thanks to the opening of the Hokuriku Shinkansen, the traveling time from Tokyo has been reduced to about three hours, and access to other cities has also improved.

It takes about 50 minutes by car to go from Himi to Toyama Airport, a gateway to the Hokuriku region, which has regular flights to Taipei, Shanghai, Dalian and Seoul.
